Certified Automotive Parts Association Featured on All Access with Andy Garcia

Kentwood, Mich. – June 9, 2026 – The Certified Automotive Parts Association (CAPA) is featured in a newly released educational segment of All Access with Andy Garcia, a nationally distributed educational series focused on informing viewers about important industries and issues.

The segment examines CAPA's role as an independent standards organization and how its certification supports quality, safety, and confidence in automotive replacement parts. Testing and technical expertise featured in the segment are provided by Intertek, a leading Total Quality Assurance provider to industries worldwide, which supports CAPA's certification programs by providing independent services in accordance with CAPA standards. Viewers gain insight into how CAPA's standards-based testing helps promote consistency, transparency, and informed decision-making across the automotive repair ecosystem.

Designed as a non-commercial, educational feature, the segment focuses on the role CAPA's standards play in supporting safe, reliable vehicle repairs.

The segment is available for viewing at: capacertified.org/allaccess

About CAPA

The Certified Automotive Parts Association, founded in 1987, is the nation's only independent, non-profit certification organization for automotive crash parts whose sole purpose is to ensure that both consumers and the industry have the means to identify high-quality parts via the CAPA Quality Seal. CAPA is an ANSI-accredited standards developer for competitive crash repair parts. For more information see CAPAcertified.org.
